PREFACE.

This series of lessons has been prepared for candidates for citizenship who are students in the public-school English and citizenship training classes, that they may learn the language of their daily activities and thereby be better able to talk of their daily needs in the language of this country. The lessons gradually increase in difficulty and are suitable to the ability of men and women of the beginners' class. The underlying theme is a narrative of the activities of an average family for an average day, week, month, year. The most outstanding educational need of everybody is to speak the English language; therefore, as much conversation as possible has been introduced into the lesson content, and more conversation is developed as the lessons advance. This has been so arranged as to lead naturally to the later exercises for reading and writing.

Before being adopted tentative lessons were distributed to trained and experienced teachers and supervisors in order that an ample test might be made of their value and practicability. Much credit is due to these teachers and supervisors who have made the lessons practical by application and suggestions. Very grateful acknowledgment is made for their hearty cooperation and the real contribution they have made.

LESSON 60.

I owe a letter to my sister in Buffalo. I think I shall answer her letter this evening.

April 16, 1923.

DEAR ELIZABETH:

Your letter came a few days ago and we were so glad to hear from you. We are glad that John is working again.

I have been working every day. We are very busy at our shop. I go to night school three nights a week, and you can see how much better I write.

We are all pretty well, except Mary. She has a bad cold. If she does not get better soon, I am going to call the doctor.

We went to see Mr. Stika Friday night. Do you remember him? He used to live next door. He has two children now.

When are you coming to see us again? The children always say, "Tell Aunt Elizabeth to visit us."

Give my regards to John and the children.

With love,

FRANK.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

LESSON 65.

Mr. Gluck and I were talking together at noon to-day. I asked him, "What do you do on Saturday afternoon?"

He said, "I usually go to a show."

I said, "It is much better to be outdoors, when you work in the factory all day."

He said, "I like hunting and fishing better than anything else."

I said, "Don't you know that you can't hunt in every State if you are not a citizen? In some States you can't fish."

He said, "Yes, I know that. I went to the city hall for a license. The clerk would not give it to me."

I said, "I shall soon get my second paper. Then I shall be a citizen."

LANGUAGE DRILL.

May I have a hunting license?

Are you a citizen of the United States?

No, but I have my first paper.

I'm sorry, but you must have the second paper to get a license.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

What are the hunting laws in your State?

Write a letter to the license bureau asking for information about hunting and fishing licenses.

LESSON 66.

Children should play outdoors, too. The fresh air is good for them. Joseph and Mary have skates and in the wintertime they go skating on the ice. Joseph has a sled and he likes to slide down the front sidewalk. Sometimes Joseph gives Sam a ride on the sled.

In the springtime the boys like to spin tops and play marbles. Mary plays jump the rope with the other girls. They like to play jacks, too.

In summer there are many things for children to do. Joseph plays baseball with the boys on our street. He never gets tired of playing ball. Sometimes I take him with me to see a big game. He likes to go swimming, too. Sam has some toys, and he plays with the other little children.

LANGUAGE DRILL.

Do your children play outdoors?

Yes. In the winter they wear heavier clothes and they play every day after school.

What kind of games do they like to play?

Oh, they have sleds and skates for the winter. In the spring they play marbles and jump the rope.

Do your children go to the playground?

Yes, I am afraid to have them play in the street.

I like to read books. I can get books and newspapers in my language at the library.

“May I have a card to draw books?”

“Write your name and address on this card.”

The librarian gave me a card with a number on it. I went to the foreign-book shelves.

“Will you show me where to find the Hungarian books?” The librarian helped me to find a book.

She said, “Would you like an easy English book, too?”

I said, “Yes, please; I am going to night school to learn English. Do you have a short story about Abraham Lincoln?”

I took the books to the charging desk. The girl put my number in the books. She stamped the date in the books.

She said, “Bring them back two weeks from to-day.”

LANGUAGE DRILL.

Have you any —— books?

Please show me where the —— books are.

LESSON 68.

Last Sunday I was taking a walk. I saw a large two-family house for sale. I saw the sign:

FOR SALE

Inquire within

The lady downstairs owned the house. She took me through the house.

The paper was new and clean. There were six rooms upstairs and six rooms downstairs. All the rooms were light and airy. The house had electric lights, combination furnace, and hardwood floors.

I asked, "How long has this house been built?"

She said, "Four years. We have kept it in good condition."

I asked, "How much do you want for the house?"

She said, "Nine thousand dollars."

I asked, "Do you want all cash?"

She said, "No, I want four thousand dollars cash and I'll take a mortgage for five thousand dollars."

I said, "Well, I'll think it over. I'll bring my wife to see the house to-morrow."

LANGUAGE DRILL.

Who owns this house?

I am the owner.

How many rooms are there in each suite?

There are six rooms upstairs and six rooms downstairs.

How much taxes do you pay?

The taxes are a little high, because we are paying for new paving.

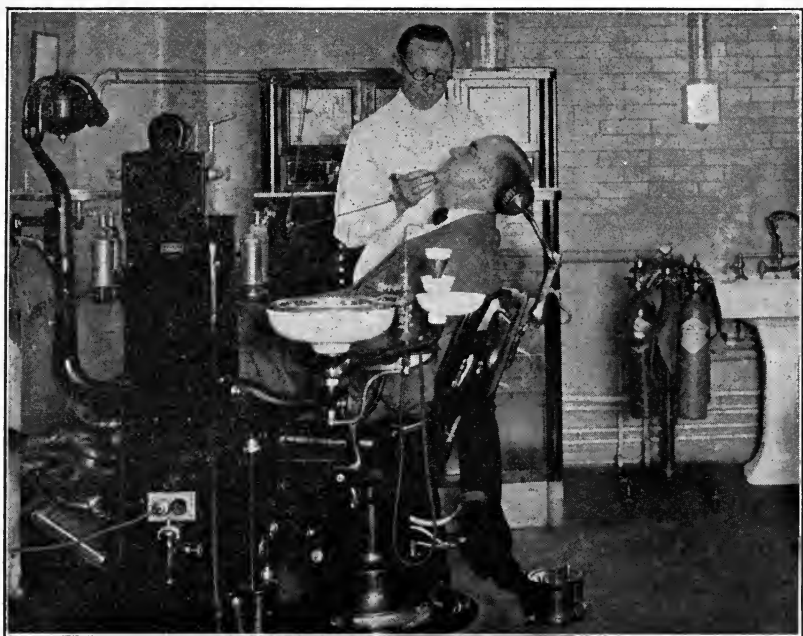

Do you have a furnace for gas and coal?

Yes, we have a combination furnace.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

Write a letter answering an advertisement in the newspaper, asking when you may see a house which has been listed.

How much does it cost to deliver it?

It will cost ten cents.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

Write a telegram on blank form about—

Arrival in a city.

Death.

Serious illness.

Request for someone to come to a city.

LESSON 73.

Finally the train came. The day coach was crowded. I asked one man, "Is this seat taken?"

He said, "No," and moved his coat so I could sit down.

I said, "I wonder what makes the train so late."

He said, "I don't know. We stopped outside of Chicago for twenty-five minutes. I suppose some part of the engine broke."

"Are you going far?"

"No. I am going to get off at Ashtabula. Where are you going?"

"I'm going to visit my sister in Buffalo. I have seen her only once since we came from Europe."

"What country did you come from?"

"I came from Hungary. Have you always lived in America?"

"Yes. My father and mother came from Germany, but I was born in America."

LANGUAGE DRILL.

LESSON 75.

Last night we went to a picture show. I went up to the booth and asked, "How much are seats in the balcony?"

The girl in the booth said, "Thirty cents. How many?"

"Three, please. When does the big picture start?"

"In fifteen minutes."

I gave her a five-dollar bill. She ^{gave} me three dollars and ten cents change. I counted the change.

"Didn't you make a mistake in my change? I gave you five dollars."

She looked at the change and said, "Oh, yes. You should have another dollar. Please excuse me."

I dropped the tickets in the box.

The usher said, "Upstairs, to the left."

I asked my sister, "Do you like to sit near the back or near the middle?"

She said, "Any place you like."

LANGUAGE DRILL.

How much are the orchestra seats?

How much are the balcony seats?

How much are the mezzanine seats?

Didn't you make a mistake in my change?

Yes, I overcharged you.

No, you have the correct change.

Didn't you make a mistake in the first sentence?

Yes, the second word is wrong.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

Write a short friendly letter telling about one of the following :

A show you have seen.

A concert you have heard.

A party you attended.

LESSON 76.

My brother-in-law was planning his garden. He has a large back yard and a nice front yard. Every spring he plants grass seed, and he has a beautiful lawn.

One evening we took the seed catalogue and studied it.

“What kinds of flowers are you going to plant in the front yard this year?”

“I have a few rose bushes at the side. I think I shall plant cosmos and zinnias across the front of the house.”

“Are you going to have any flowers in the back yard?”

“Yes. I shall plant some asters and nasturtiums. I always have a large vegetable garden. I am going to plant radishes, lettuce, spinach, beets, and onions first. Later I’m going to plant turnips, cabbage, tomatoes, and peppers. I always buy the cabbage, tomato, and pepper plants at the market.”

“Where do you buy your seeds?”

“Last year I sent away for them. The seeds were very good and I shall order my seeds from the same company.”

LANGUAGE DRILL.

Where can I buy seeds?

You can buy them at the grocery store.

You can send away for them.

You can buy them at a seed store.

Where is the best place to buy tomato plants?
They are cheaper at the market.
You can buy them at the seed store.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

Write a letter asking for a seed catalogue.

LESSON 77.

“Where did you get this catalogue?”

“I saw the advertisement in the paper and sent for it.”

“Do you know how to order by mail?”

“Yes. I received an order blank and an addressed envelope with the catalogue. I shall look through the catalogue for the names and the catalogue number of the seeds I want. Then I shall write the catalogue number, names, quantities, and prices of the seeds I want.”

“How do you pay for the seeds? Do you put the money in the envelope?”

“Oh, no. I go to the post office and get a money order. That is the safest way to send money.”

“Do you have to pay for a money order?”

“Yes, a few cents, but it is worth it.”

LANGUAGE DRILL.

May I have a money-order application?

To whom are you sending the money?

To Clarke, Olmstead & Co., New York City. How much will it cost?

The rates are on the application blank. Put this order in your envelope and keep this receipt.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

Fill out an order blank and a money order application.

LESSON 78.

“Did you receive your order all right last year?”

“No, they made a little mistake.”

“What did you do about it?”

“I wrote a letter of complaint.”

“Did they make it right?”

“Oh, yes. They answered my letter immediately and sent me the correct order.”

“What did you write to them?”

“This is what I wrote.”

420 Hoyt Ave.,

Buffalo, N. Y.,

March 12, 1922.

Clarke, Olmstead & Co.,

New York City.

Gentlemen :

On March 5 I sent you an order for several kinds of seeds. When I received the order, I found there were no radishes. I am sure you will correct this mistake. May I hear from you at your earliest convenience?

Yours truly,

John Takacs.

LANGUAGE DRILL.

Why do you put your address at the top of the letter?

It is easier for the person who answers the letter.

Is there anything you can write instead of "Gentlemen?"

Yes, you can say, "Dear Sir."

Do you inclose a stamp in your letter?

Not when you write to a big company. Sometimes the advertisement says, "inclose postage."

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

Write a letter of complaint to—

A company.

The city garbage department.

The city ash department.

The health department.

LESSON 79.

One evening John and I were talking about work. John works in a factory and he has saved a little money. He wants to start in business for himself.

“What kind of store do you want to open?”

“I learned the drug business in Europe. I think I shall open a drug store and sell ice cream and soft drinks.”

“Did you ever ask whether you are allowed to run a drug store?”

“No, I never have. Do I have to have a license?”

“Well, I don’t know about New York State. In some cities you must be a citizen before you can get a license.”

“Where can I find out?”

“Go to the license bureau in the city hall. The clerk will tell you what you can do.”

“I think those are strange laws.”

“In Cleveland, where I live, you can not run a drug store, pool room, or soft-drink parlor, if you sell near-beer. You can not hold any public office and you can not peddle any kind of goods.”

LANGUAGE DRILL.

Am I allowed to run a drug store?

LESSON 80.

“How long have you had your first paper?”

“About five years.”

“You can apply for your second paper (or certificate of naturalization). In two years more your first paper will not be good, and you will have to start all over again.”

“I do not know enough about the Government to pass the examination.”

“Well, go to a citizenship class. The teacher helps you prepare for the examination.”

“Where can I find a citizenship class?”

“You can find one in almost any night school. When you get citizenship papers you can go into any kind of business.”

“Why do the States make those laws?”

“I don’t know. In some States you can not even own land. At any time the State legislature or the city council can make new laws to take away the right to own stores, hold offices, or own land.”

“Can they do that to citizens?”

“Oh, no. When you have your certificate of naturalization you are a citizen. These laws are for people who are not citizens.”

LANGUAGE DRILL.

Why don’t you apply for your certificate of naturalization?

Why don’t you go to a citizenship class?

Why can’t I go into business?

Why is the law different in each State?

Where can I find out about the law?

Write four sentences about Christmas in your country.

NEW YEAR'S DAY.

“A happy New Year to you!”

“The same to you and many of them!”

This is the greeting we hear everywhere on January first. We wish our friends good luck and happiness for the new year.

Some countries do not use the same calendar we have. For them New Year's Day does not come on January first. They have the same holiday at another time in the year.

New Year's Day is a very old holiday. In some countries it has been kept for more than four thousand years. It has always been a time to be happy and glad.

LANGUAGE DRILL.

Success to you for the New Year!

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Abraham Lincoln was born in Kentucky, February 12, 1809. His family was very poor. In those days most people lived in log cabins. There were no large school buildings and usually the teacher taught only a few months in the year.

Lincoln's mother taught him to read, and he used to read late in the night. He was too poor to buy books, but he borrowed them from his friends. He studied very hard.

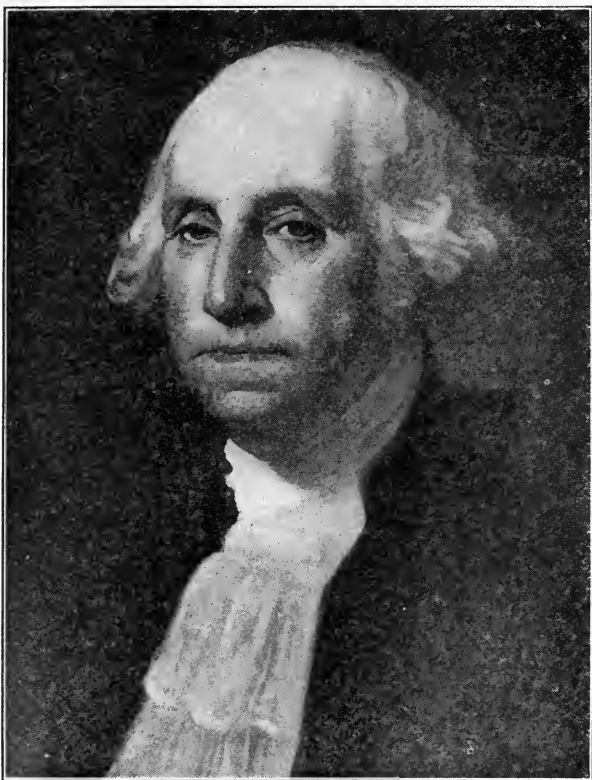

When Lincoln became President of the United States, the South tried to break away from the Union. The North wanted to keep the Union. Then a war began between the North and the South. One day Lincoln read a paper in which he said, that on the first day of January, 1863, all persons held as slaves were to be forever free. In 1865 the war ended. The South came back to the Union and all slaves were free.

Abraham Lincoln was one of our greatest Presidents.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

When was Lincoln born? From whom did he learn to read? What position did he finally receive? Why do we remember him? Why did the North and South fight?

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

In the State of Virginia the farmers owned large plantations. They had many slaves to help them raise tobacco. On one of these plantations George Washington was born, February 22, 1732. Even as a little boy he liked to play at war, and in school he liked the studies which make men good generals.

When the colonies went to war with England he was made commander in chief of the army. He was very good to his soldiers, often paying them from his own money. After the new country was founded, Washington was made the first President. He always tried to do his best for his people and his country. He was elected a second time.

Everyone loved him and admired him. He has always been called the "Father of his country."

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Each spring since the Civil War people decorate the graves of the soldiers with flowers. May thirtieth is a legal holiday. It is the day on which we now remember the men who lost their lives in all the wars in which the United States has fought.

In large cities there is usually a parade of the soldiers who fought in the recent wars. There are not many of the Civil War soldiers alive to-day. Sometimes the school children have a parade. They march to the cemetery and place flowers and flags upon the graves.

Flags are flying everywhere. Many cities have music and speeches in the parks.

We are proud to remember our soldiers. They fought for freedom and liberty for all people.

LANGUAGE DRILL.

May thirtieth is the day on which we remember the soldiers who have fought for America.

October twelfth is the day on which we remember Columbus, the discoverer of America.

December twenty-fifth is the day on which we remember the birth of Christ.

January first is the day on which we celebrate the New Year.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

Why do we have a legal holiday on May 30?

What do we do to show we remember the soldiers?

Why do we like to remember our soldiers?

What do we call this holiday?

FLAG DAY.

Every country has its own flag. When the Colonies declared themselves free from England, they wanted a new flag for the new Nation. On June 14, 1777, Congress passed a law "that the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field." We do not know why the stars and stripes were chosen. Washington himself said, "We take the stars from heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down representing liberty."

Washington took the plan for the flag to Betsy Ross, who lived in Philadelphia. She knew how to sew very well and she made the first flag. For many years after she worked for the Government as a flag maker.

For every new State a star has been added to the flag and now we have 48 stars. Sometimes our flag is called "Old Glory" and "the Star-Spangled Banner." Our national song was written about the flag."

Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,

O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there,

Chorus.

Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

What are the colors of your flag? What are the colors of the United States flag? What do the thirteen stripes stand for? When is a new star added to the flag? Who made the first flag?

THE FOURTH OF JULY.

The Fourth of July is called Independence Day. It is really the birthday of the United States

When the Colonies belonged to England many troubles came between the new country and the mother country. England wanted the Colonies to do only such work as would help people in England. They could not build ships of their own, but must trade only with English ships. They could not make machinery; everything manufactured must be bought from England. They must pay taxes on tea, glass, sugar, and many other things.

Finally several men like Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, and John Hancock came together and wrote a Declaration of Independence. In this paper it said that all men were born free and equal and the colonists declared their freedom from England. Since July 4, 1776, we have celebrated this holiday with fireworks. Because so many people were hurt with the fireworks, many cities now have a "sane Fourth." We celebrate the day in other ways.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

Write a letter telling about what you did last Fourth of July.

LABOR DAY.

Ever since 1894 the first Monday in September has been a legal holiday all over the United States. Though it is called Labor Day, it is a day of rest. America was the first country in the world to have a Labor Day. On this day we honor the thing which gives us our living—work, or labor.

In large cities usually the workingmen of the different trades have a parade.

Conditions for workingmen are much better now than a few years ago. They work for a certain number of hours each day. They are paid with money. Shops and factories are inspected regularly. In case of accident a workman can secure help because of the workmen's compensation law.

Because of all these things Labor Day is an important holiday.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

When does Labor Day come? Why do we have a legal holiday on this day? What do the workingmen do on Labor Day? What did you do last Labor Day? What kind of work do you do?
